Armistice Day 2018

A short and very moving service of Remembrance was held at the Stratherrick War Memorial on 11 November 2018 at 3pm.

Almost 100 local people gathered in the mist and the rain to remember the 48 men who have their names inscribed on the memorial. There were 34 local casualties in the First World War and a further 14 servicemen who died in the Second World War. Two civilian workers, Murdo MacLeod and Archibald MacDonald also died when the Foyers Aluminium Smelter was bombed in 1941.

Inverness St Columba Minister Rev Scott MacRoberts (who is now Interim Moderator at Boleskine Church of Scotland) officiated with contributions from many local people. Community Council Chair Catriona Fraser, Glebe made reference to the evident hard work of the South Loch Ness Heritage Group volunteers who had renovated the War Memorial and the area around it over the past year. This included masonry work, a new plaque and repaired walls and fences.

Two residents read out each of the names on the War Memorial in turn. These servicemen died in many different places. In the First World War for example Duncan Cameron from Inverfarigaig died in Mombasa, East Africa aged 25. He is one of the 51 Commonwealth War burials at Mbaraki Cemetery. In the Second World War William Redmond, a Cameron Highlander from Foyers, died on active service in North Africa around El Alamein. Cameron Highlander Sgt. James D Stewart DCM died at St. Valery in Normandy along with many Highland soldiers in the retreat of June 1940.

Wreaths were laid by the Stratherrick and Foyers Community Council, the First Stratherrick Girl Guides, the South Loch Ness Heritage Group, Foyers Fire and Rescue Service, Stratherrick and Foyers Community Trust and on behalf of the Merchant Marine.

South Loch Ness Heritage Group AGM

A successful AGM for the Heritage Group has resulted in new office bearers for the year ahead. The group is now under the Chairmanship of Bob Main, Foyers, with Chris Gehrke, Inverfarigaig acting as Secretary. John Townshend, Glenlia has a hold of the purse strings as the new Treasurer. The previous chair and treasurer Alan Findlay and Heather MacLeod remain on the Committee.

Alan welcomed Maureen Kenyon to the meeting. Maureen gave an illustrated talk to over 20 people in attendance. Her subject was Local Women and the Great War and included fascinating information on the part played by Inverness women in the Suffragette movement. There is no doubt that these women were influential in the wider movement to bring votes for women. Suffragette and hunger striker Marion Wallace Dunlop spent her early days at Leys Castle Inverness, but many local women with surnames such as Munro and Fraser, and some men were very active around 1910 in agitating for votes for women. Maureen widened her talk to include many examples of ways in which local women gave their effort and support in the Great War. Alister Chisholm gave the vote of thanks.

The South Loch Ness Heritage Group was responsible for the considerable volunteer work on the Stratherrick War Memorial over the last year. The site was looking in great order for the Armistice Service on 11 November. The new lectern and information board was very well received. Alister Chisholm, Lochgarthside laid a wreath at the Memorial on behalf of the Heritage Group.

The Waterfall Café at Foyers has asked the NEWS to let readers know they will be closed for ten days from the 2nd of December 2018 whilst a wood burning stove is installed. We hope you don't miss your Friday fish suppers too much. The café will also be closed for Christmas Day and Ne'er Day.

Stratherrick and Foyers Community Trust bought The Hub building in the summer and work has been progressing well over the last few weeks in Unit 1 to get the building ready for BCC to occupy the whole space. At the time of writing, the wall between Unit 1 and Unit 2 is about to be knocked down to make an internal connection between the two units. This will more than double the space available for Boleskine Community Care.

Gillian Haston,
Support and Development Officer

It is an exciting time for Boleskine Community Care!

Our Annual General Meeting took place on 3 November and was well attended. As some Trustees were standing down at this meeting, it was a time for reflection on the great progress that BCC has made since its inception.

We heard talks from Morag Cameron about 5 years in the life of a Trustee, from me about my impressions since joining BCC, and from Heather MacDonald and Morag MacDonald Pickthall about 'a day in the life of a carer'.

Morag Cameron (Chair), Lyn Woods (Treasurer), Alison Seago and Jennie Devlin stood down having reached the end of their terms. All have shown tremendous determination, perseverance and commitment over the last few years and will be greatly missed.

We are pleased to say that new Trustees have been elected in their place – Kit Cameron from Whitebridge, Christopher Gehrke from Inverfarigaig and Alison Randall from Whitebridge. Kit Cameron is now Chair, Jane O'Donovan is Treasurer and will also hold the office of Secretary until January 2019, when Julie Russell will take over.

As BCC marks the beginning of a new phase, we have a wonderful opportunity opening for us to develop services that best meet the expanding needs of our community. This is very much work in progress and we will keep you updated.

The monthly Morning Coffee meet-up now takes place at The Hub, at the usual time. Longer-term, we plan to move the Broth & Blether to The Hub but in the short-term it has moved to Stratherrick Public Hall (time unchanged).

Thanks go to everyone who took part in the Sale of Work on 20 October which raised £274 for BCC.

Julie Russell has done a wonderful job at Boleskine Community Care. She's decided to move on in January, so a new recruit is needed. If you know of a suitable candidate please make sure they apply by 9th December 2018.

It was a beautiful day for the Broth & Blether walk. A dozen folk enjoyed a trip to the south side of Loch Mhor. Hopefully the next Sole Mates Walk on the 30th December will have the same warming sunshine.

BCC Walking dates coming up are:

Hub walks: Tuesdays Dec 4th, Jan 8th and Feb 5th all starting at 2.30 from the Hub.

Broth & Blether walks: Mondays Dec 17th, Jan 21st, Feb 18th all starting after a bowl of soup at about 1. Give Gillian a phone to check the venue.

Sole Mates Walk: Sundays Dec 30th, Jan 27th, Feb 24th meet at the hub. 10.30 am. Stout shoes and a packed lunch required. Bring the sun with you.

This course is normally priced at approximately £200 and is available free of charge only to residents of the Stratherrick and Foyers area. The Police Scotland website recently reported that in a one week period in November, ten motorists were arrested in connection with drink or drug driving offences in the Highlands and Islands. 'Eight drivers - six men and two women - have been or will be reported in connection with alleged drink driving. A further two men will face similar action for alleged drug driving related offences. Offences were detected across the region, with incidents in Aird and Loch Ness area, Inverness, Easter Ross, Orkney and Shetland.'

P.C. Ryan McGill said 'Everyone knows that with Christmas approaching alcohol consumption increases for many drivers. If you value your driving licence and need it for work then make sure you do not risk losing it, injuring yourself or any other road user.'

Midori, Chambord, Malibu or Pasoa ... many exotic liqueurs come out from the back of the drinks cupboard at Christmas and are around 20% alcohol by volume. Other spirits can be 40% by volume.

The Loch Ness Luvvies conjured up the most entertaining of evenings recently at the Stratherrick Hall. Their latest show, Noel Coward's Blithe Spirit, was a tour-de-force by our local troupe, directed by Michael White.

As the curtain opened the very impressive set of a posh 1940's living room drew the audience in to period and set up the action. The "Back-stage" crew did a marvellous job, not only with the set, but showed real talent for costumes and some amazing special effects!

Charles Condomine, (played by Simon Hargreaves) had not long married his second wife Ruth (Janet Sutherland). Charles had invited zany Medium Madame Arcati (Holly Arnold) to a séance, and his recently deceased first wife Elvira (Jan Hargreaves) makes a ghostly appearance as a consequence. Faced with the option of being dead or wreaking havoc with the household, Elvira chooses to return to the house.

Noel Coward's script was written over 80 years ago but was brought to life by the Luvvies. Coward's play is more than just comedic and makes us ponder on life and relationships — and what will happen to Charles.

Over 100 people enjoyed the Luvvies production over the two nights. Lots of rehearsal paid off, The cast had memorised an amazing amount of dialogue and Prompt 'Whispering' Fiona Ambrose was always ready with a line from the side of the stage. Dramatic exchanges and comic timing were often spot on. Simon Hargreaves' wig will take a long time to fade in the memory of all who attended. The Friday and Saturday night audiences both responded with laughs and welldeserved applause for the company at the curtain calls. Look out for the next Luvvies' performance!

The Loch Ness Luvvies welcome new recruits. If you crave the smell of the greasepaint and the roar of the crowd, please contact one of the Luvvies.

Water, water, everywhere, Now, Nor any in my pond this Summer.

For those familiar with the poem "The Ancient Mariner" by Samuel Taylor Coleridge, this can only be seen as murdering those famous lines "Water, water, everywhere, Nor any drop to drink."

I recalled this poem when I lived in Australia and strangely have found that the change in our recent climate makes me recall it again. I never thought that I would see a parallel between the extremes I experienced in Australia with the extremes of wet and dry, though lesser, in Inverness. But they are now quite obvious as I looked at a dried out pond near Errogie this summer and now see my car windscreen wipers going ten to the dozen to combat the intensity of rain! Once in Australia it was so hard to see I had to stop driving altogether - but that was a time when the creek rose 40 feet and spread 100 feet after two weeks of intensive rain. Australians have found ideas to live in these extremes and in an attempt to share what I learnt I see relevance now with our area and our climate shift.

"Permaculture" was a cultural and land concept that Bill Mollison used to tackle the problem of extremes. Permaculture identifies the principles needed to tackle it. Firstly it is the idea of sustainable approaches to land which is the only way to prevent loss of soil, massive CO2 emissions, run off and huge floods and reduced yields. Our Culture need to shift to include permanence.

Bill then identifies ways to do this. The beauty of "Permaculture" as an idea is that it can apply to the smallest situation, starting at our back door and be scaled up to large agricultural enterprises and wilderness regeneration. We are all part of "Permaculture" in our own ways and the aim is to identify the ways to achieve it in this huge range of circumstances. Culture means sustainability and as a culture Bill was aiming to make it an integral part of a community's thought. "Permaculture " is now consciously applied, with a vast range of solutions, in many countries and it started in Northern New South Wales, Australia.

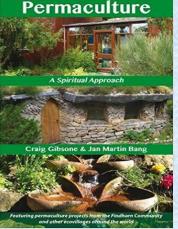

Starting at my own back door: The dryness of summer and wetness of winter is now a threat to our soil, baking it to a hardness plants can't grow in, washing away nutrients and the top soil itself into rivers and silting them up.

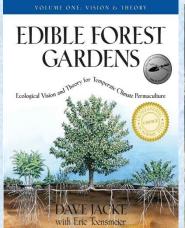

There is one simple solution. Mulch! Mulch can be sea shells in pot plants to retain moisture beneath them, or on surrounding bare soil with a coverage of leaf litter and bark to preserve moisture. This can apply to veggie gardens. Trees shed leaves in larger areas that mulch and improve the soil. Plants can be grown in the different micro climates of bushed or treed areas with greater success because of the soil nutrient and improved shelter. On agricultural farms some choose to harvest a crop but leave the stalks to cover the soil as mulch and enrich the soil as it breaks down with a 'no bare soil' policy.

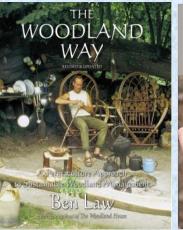

Another solution to achieve "Permaculture" is "Diversity" as opposed to monoculture. This principle applies to companion planting in veggie gardens to companion planting on farms and is applied to achieving a diversity of tree species in woodlands. All this combatted extreme climate change and improved yield and plant healthiness. It was a great and successful idea I wanted to share.

Sandy Fraser remembers a few 'makes and models' from his early days in the Strath.

The first car that I remember was a Humber owned by my Uncle James of Campbell the Builders. He came to visit us when I was a 5 year-old at Oldtown Farm, Errogie in 1935. The farm is now sadly lying in ruins. My cousin Kate MacGillivray, when she was not in Inverness, stayed with her sister at the School House, Errogie. She owned a baby Austin 7. It was a cute wee popular car at the time. On one occasion she rolled it on an icy road without resulting in harm to herself or much damage to her car.

Another different car used for school transport belonged to the Shaw Brothers who were Road Contractors, Croftdhu, Errogie. It was a Rover with a free wheel, it operated like a bicycle and you could free wheel for miles and save petrol, there was an inch round knob on the dashboard which you turned for off and on. It was later discontinued on safety grounds.

All the large estates including Corriegarth, Farraline, Knockie and Dumnaglass had big Ford V8 Shooting Brakes. These vehicles were fitted with a 30 horse power side valve engine, a 3 speed gearbox and 6 volt electrics. They had a top speed of 80 miles per hour which was good then considering the road conditions. Also they had wooden framed doors and side windows. They were very suitable for transporting shooting parties around the estates. I remember very well as an apprentice 1945-1950 working on them in Macrae and Dick's garage in Inverness. One of the tasks I had to do was removing the masks from the headlamps that had been put in place during the War to hide them from enemy planes flying overhead.

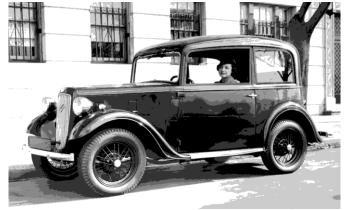

Back in those early days of motoring there were no inside or windscreen heaters and so on a frosty day it was a problem trying to see out and in fact highly dangerous. One solution was to slice a potato in half and rub it on the windscreen, the juice from it kept the glass from freezing. The first windscreen defroster was a hard plastic type strip 15" long with an electric element attached by two rubber suckers to the bottom of the windscreen and it worked very well. Also radios were not fitted as standard. Seat belts were never thought of. In winter you had to be well wrapped up with coats and gloves, not the comfort and luxury we enjoy today. Even the farm tractors now have heated cabs and radios. Can you imagine what it was like ploughing in the rain in an open cab all day? I suppose better than walking behind a plough all day pulled by horses.

We bought our first car at Migovie Farm around 1947. It was a Standard 2-door with a 3 speed forward gearbox (now you get cars with up to 6 forward gears). My brother Ewen was the proud driver, our father never bothered to learn to drive but I would be given a shot by Ewen "often on-edge" at driving on the two mile farm road. This was the car that I turned over at Scaniport on my way for my National Service Medical.

Other popular cars around that time were the Ford Popular and Prefect. These were very cheap cars which used the suction from the engine to drive the wipers. One drawback was when pulling hard uphill the wipers died off as the engine used up all the air so you had to slow down to get the wipers going again!

Our first ever car at Migovie. We felt like royalty!

Jack Hall farmer in Garthbeg owned an MG sports car and would frighten the life of my father when given lifts. At the same time I remember my father saying, "Ah but he could handle it." At the outbreak of the War Jack volunteered as a fighter pilot in the Royal Air Force and later on was sadly posted missing.

HST 140

My first car was a black Standard 8 saloon, 'HST140'. It was a joint venture with my brother Donald. We bought it in September 1954 from James Ferries & Coy, Motor and Agriculture Engineers, Inverness who were the agents for Standard cars. The car cost £339, plus Purchase Tax £142, plus oils used and a wiper blade for the passenger side and four hub cover plates, delivery and road license for a year less than £5. The total price was £508 which was a lot of money in those days, so we had to get a loan from a Hire Purchase Firm.

A car with an unusual gearbox was the Riley. You had to know how to drive it as I know because of a scare I got in Macrae and Dicks. I was detailed to repair a rear lamp but my colleague said "Hold-on while I check the charging system." Sitting in the car with one leg out, he started the car. It raced back, gaining speed and crashed into two other cars 20 feet behind. Had I been working at the rear I would have almost certainly have been crushed between the bumpers. This car had pre-select gears and until the clutch was pressed once, the drive was still engaged in the previous position - in this case reverse, although the gear lever was in the neutral position.

Prior to owning a car a Triumph motor cycle was my transport and I once give my mother a pillion ride on it which she enjoyed but I think somehow was happier when she got off safely at the end of our journey which was only 3 miles to my Granny's home in Errogie. Another form of transport from Migovie to Wester Aberchalder to connect to the school transport was in the back of our father's horse and cart when the road was flooded.

Buses expected to change colour in January 2019

The school buses and service buses running between Inverness and Foyers and Inverness and Whitebridge have been operated by D&E Coaches for a while now. The firm is handing over these services to Stagecoach and some of their buses too. Existing drivers are expected to transfer to Stagecoach. Some minor changes to the timetable are expected.

D&E Coaches told the NEWS that they will continue to operate tours, some school services in Inverness and private hires.

RRU OK!

The new fire appliance for Foyers Fire Crew is an impressive vehicle packed with the latest tools to help tackle fires, road traffic accidents and other emergencies. The new fire engine is described as an RRU – a rapid response unit. It is designed for use in rural areas and is part of a £7.6 million investment in front-line firefighting. You may have heard the crew testing the sirens or seen the blue lights around Glenliath and Stratherrick during September – the vehicle has three different sirens for use at depending on the situation and the road being traversed. It has now seen active service at an industrial silo fire in Invergordon where the new lance worked very well indeed.

Local Retained Firefighter
Stewart Macpherson from Dell was at Stonehaven for the RRU launch. Stewart appeared on STV television news.

Emergency one

The RRUs are being built specially for the Scottish Fire and Rescue Service by Emergency One – a firm based in Cumnock in Ayrshire. A special vehicle body is fitted to an Iveco chassis cab. Equipment is then added including a water pump, grapples, ladders, hoses, trauma packs, e-draulic cutting gear and an UHPL – an ultra-high pressure cold cut lance. This tool is a great improvement on older water jets and can tackle the base of a fire.

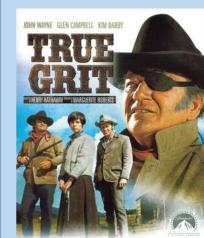

Where will the previous Foyers Fire Engines end up now they are retired? The LDV Convoy 'SY04BXA' and 'SY03BNN which both served at Foyers wait in the frost at Scottish Fire and Rescue's Inverness Store.

Stratherrick and Foyers Community Council applied for a winter resilience grant from Scottish and Southern Energy Networks back in the springtime. Last month the Council heard that they had been successful. Their bid has resulted in 17 (yes 17) new grit bins now sited around our area. Highland Council has agreed to fill the bins with grit. Community Council Secretary Kim Burton successfully appealed on Facebook for volunteers to help install the new bins and for suggestions where some of the bins would be most useful. The idea was to address problem junctions with minor roads and accesses which are often the most treacherous when temperatures fall below zero on wet roads.

Did you know that most of the red road salt used in Scotland is mined in Northern Ireland and arrives here by ship? Irish Salt Mining and Exploration Co. Ltd. has vast underground salt caverns at Carrickfergus, County Antrim. They use the 'room and pillar' mining method. The company has underground machinery to grind up the material and conveyors to take the product to their own jetty at Kilroot to load coastal ships.

John Wayne says...... Keep 'an eye' out for the locations of the new grit bins. Then you will know where they are when the snow and ice come.

The size of these boats carrying road de-icing rock salt has increased over the years. The newest ship to deliver our road salt is the Inverness-based Scot Navigator which joined the Scotline fleet last year. The ship carries 3,500 tonnes of salt from Kilroot to Inverness and has completed two voyages in recent months.

The new grit bins were funded by Stratherrick Public Hall is set to get some TLC over the coming months. The work will take some time to complete but will be worthwhile. External work to the walls and roof will be undertaken and outside paintwork will be attended to. The spongy areas of floor in the current entrance porch will be renewed, and the kitchen floor will also receive much-needed attention.

In order that the joiner can undertake the work at the entrance, the Hall Committee plan to re-open the old entrance (closer to the bus shelter). The Hall will revert to the current entrance once all the work is completed.

Hugh Nicol, Chair of the Hall Committee said 'The leak in the roof has been stopped and we will reinstate the ceiling in the Committee Room. We are planning a small library and book swap area, and there is already a printer which can take photocopies. The shredder donated by the Medical Practice is also available if hall users have any documents to dispose of securely.'

Hugh added 'The Hall is expecting to host a wedding reception in January and we hope to have a new 'Hobart' dishwasher installed before then. This machine will be a great benefit to many users. We have chosen a commercial model which cleans and dries dishes very rapidly indeed and will improve hygiene and reduce manual effort.'

Hugh added 'The new data projector and screen are now working and are a marked improvement on the old screen which has been retired after more than forty years. Anyone visiting the hall can use our free WiFi and connect to the internet on their mobile phones and tablets when visiting the hall.'

All the work is funded by Stratherrick and Foyers Community Trust from money received from renewable energy companies operating in Stratherrick. Local tradesmen are being used wherever possible to maximise the benefit to our community.' Hugh concluded 'Please bear with us during this important work. In the interest of safety I'd also ask all Hall Users be vigilant whilst improvements are underway.'

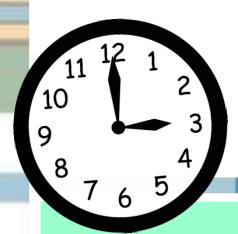

Booking the Hall is easy.

All bookings are handled by Pam Simpson, Gorthleck who holds the diary. Pam has recently listed all forthcoming hires on sheets in the Hall for reference and the contact details for the volunteer-run groups which use the Hall regularly. Hall hires by local community groups are free of charge because the Hall Committee has reached an agreement with the Community Trust for funding the expenses. Bookings must be made with Pam Simpson.

The Hall Committee still raises charges when the facility is used by private hirers or commercial organisations. All people hiring the Hall must abide by the terms and conditions of hire as set down by the Hall Committee.

Better than the Bught!

Stratherrick and Foyers Community Fireworks was a success again this year. Thanks to off-duty Fire-fighters for running the intense and spectacular display and other members of the Foyers Fire Crew for preparing and serving the tasty soup and burgers. All together = pretty special!

The new access to the Community's Riverside Field at Foyers was in use for the first time on 7th November when the pupils from Foyers Primary came down to sow wild flower seeds along the new bund. Fiona Morrison, SSE, Peter Faye, Chair of Stratherrick and Foyers Community Trust, Julie Murphy, Director of the Trust and Eilidh Todd, newlyappointed Community Funds Manager (r) with SSE in Inverness also attended.

So how many visitors will you meet in 2019 who are slightly lost?
Thanks to Google, here is a paper map which might just help.

Foyers Pontoons

Two consignments of pontoons have arrived at Foyers Bay. The sections have been donated to the Community Trust by a Drumnadrochit beneficiary and include bands, walkway sections, floats and safety rails. The Trust is making an inventory of the items to see which can be used at the site.

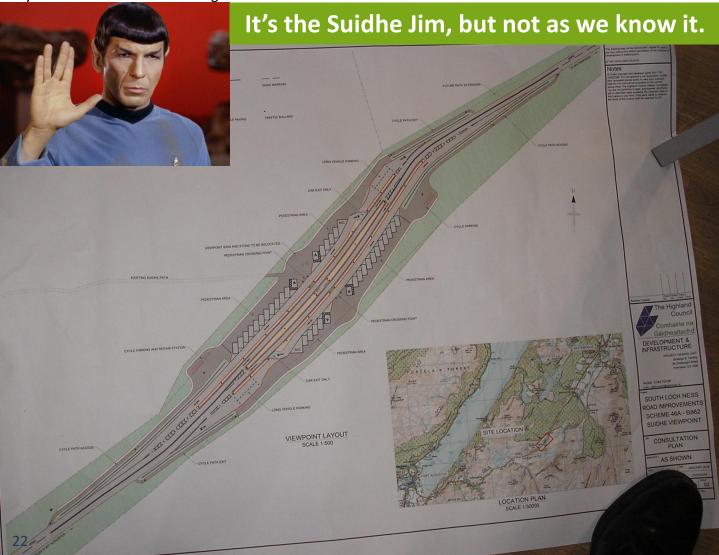

The Trust expects to test and re-galvanise the sections to be used at Foyers in conjunction with the proposed improved small boat slipway.

A Highland Council plan to completely change the Suidhe Viewpoint has emerged to local disbelief and some consternation. The Plan which was provided to the Community Council shows a large scale scheme for 40 car parking spaces, large vehicle spaces, eight traffic islands, a cycle repair area and marked crossings. The carriageway would also be split by a central dual carriageway type reservation and the existing Suidhe Stone would be relocated. It is unclear why this plan has been drawn up as no one at the Community Council meeting knew about the proposal. There has been wide scale concern on a number of issues. Some residents consider that the Suidhe is a wild place and the scale of the proposal would have a significant impact. Increased tourist use without any toilet facilities would be likely to lead to additional 'alfresco' toileting which blights many laybys each summer. The new area would doubtless attract additional overnight parking. The central reservation kerbs could be hazardous as they would disappear under a light covering of snow. Questions are also being raised over the cost of the work, should it go ahead. Locals point out alternative uses for any roads cash, including better passing places and the repair of patches and verge potholes on sub standard roads around the district. A replacement for the Bailey Bridge at Lower Foyers also remains outstanding.

S R SCLERODERMA & RAYNAUD'S UK

The South Loch Ness Motorcycle Club is planning to ride the North Coast 500 route in March / April 2019. The aim is to raise money for Scleroderma and Raynaud's UK charity. To make the journey more interesting and difficult the group will be riding a selection of old, recycled or cheap motorbikes. There are three choices for the 12 or so bikers taking part in the challenge. They can use a 'shed-built' bike, a bike under 125cc or a motorbike that costs less than £300. Just look what Ebay has to offer!

Raynaud's Phenomenon is a health condition which affects the circulation of many people especially in the small blood vessels in fingers and toes. Scleroderma is a rarer condition which affects the body's connective tissues and autoimmune system. The charity SRUK has been operating since

1984. www.sruk.co.uk

Bettyhill or Bust!

Look out for collecting tins in local businesses around the area over the coming weeks and months. Every penny makes a difference as 'pennies make pounds'! Leaflets about the health conditions and the charity will be available wherever there are collecting tins.

You don't need a road map for the North Coast – just sing along with Calum Kennedy to the Waters of Kylesku or follow the lyrics of Jackie Craig's great song Bonnie Naver Bay.

Sian writes 'Driving along the A82 a few days ago and looking back across Loch Ness towards Foyers, Phil and I felt very proud of the new structure on the hillside that, a year ago, didn't exist. Nestling nicely amongst the trees is 'Log Ness', the log house that we started to plan a long 3 years ago as soon as we had fallen in love with our plot of land and its surroundings.

The reason we were driving along the A82 is that we had walked up Meall Fuar Mhoniadh, something we feel inclined to do now and again as it features in the view from our sitting room, perfectly framed by the huge glass windows in the front of our building. The dramatic view changes by the hour and we particularly enjoy the Winter sunsets. In due course the first pleasure-craft to reappear on the Loch will signify the end of Winter turning into another busy Springtime.

We believe this newest addition to Foyers is the first building with traditional permanent foundations to be built for quite some years within the village itself. Constructed from 100-year old pine, the log kit, including its triple-glazed windows, comes from Finland with everything else sourced locally. The project itself was not without its problems, some of them significant. However, with the expert help and guidance of a local construction project manager (you know who you are) and the craftsmanship of local trades we finally finished construction exactly three years after finding our plot. We also had moral support and encouragement from many folk in the village for which we will always remain grateful.

During construction we lived first in a vintage caravan and then on a motorhome so moving into our spacious, comfortable, centrally heated (run by an Air Source Heat Pump) house in time for our fourth Foyers winter was a huge relief.

If you look up from the old shinty pitch or down from the B852 you will see our new-build with its contemporary lines and grey metal roof. We hope you like it. Meanwhile, the deer that leave their tracks across our still rather bald expanse of topsoil are probably willing our lawn to grow as much as we are. Roll on Spring!'

Boleskine Camanachd at Sgoil Shiaboist, Eilean Leodhais. 25 August 2018.

Boleskine crossed the Minch to win 4-2 against Lewis. Fulfilling the Lewis fixture is a challenge for some mainland clubs and Lewis was delighted to welcome Boleskine to Shawbost. It was an exciting game with the score at 2-2 for a while. Thanks to Camanachd Leodhais for the photo.

Marine Harvest North Division 2, 2018

It has been a good season for Boleskine ending in a strong third place in North Division 2. You can see from the league table that it would not have taken much to see the Wasps finish even higher.

With sixty goals this season the team was certainly on target.

Oven Baked Risotto

Try this simple risotto and you'll be hooked!

Put the frying pan away.
Did you know you don't have to stand stirring a big pot for hours to make a tasty risotto?

Leek Risotto

This recipe is best eaten as soon as it is cooked, so time it well. Put the oven on at 180 degrees before you start mixing your ingredients.

Ingredients

- 1 tablespoon Oil
- 1 Onion
- 2 Leeks
- 250g Risotto Rice
- 175g Frozen Peas
- 3 tablespoons of Soft Cheese

(Philadelphia or similar)

Fresh zest from one Lemon.

700ml of hot Vegetable Stock made up using cubes or stock pots.

Method

Oil a casserole dish - a Pyrex one with a lid is best. Chop the onion and leeks and fry them in the rest of the oil until they are soft. Tip in the rice and keep on the hob for a further minute to allow the rice to take up the flavour. Stir well and put the mixture into your Pyrex dish and pour the hot stock over it.

Mix again and put the lid on. Cook for 30 minutes. Meanwhile boil the peas. When the risotto comes out the oven all the liquid should have been absorbed by the rice. Drain the peas and stir them in along with the lemon zest and cream cheese. Best serve immediately with grated Parmesan and garlic bread.

All recipes are produced in the StrathNEWS kitchen. If you have a recipe to send in, please email us!

Granny's Tips

- 1. Use spray oil and fat-free quark for a slimming version of this recipe.
- 2. Experiment with different flavours such as mushroom, sweetcorn or a jar of red peppers.
- 3. Try using a flavoured cream cheese or quark.
- 4. The top dish shown is a red pepper and sweetcorn version with onion and chive soft cheese.
- 5. A little flaked Smoked Salmon and cress on top makes the dish really special.

For this issue Scott Russell our Mobile Librarian has a rather unusual choice. He wants to bring a book to your attention which you might not otherwise look at.

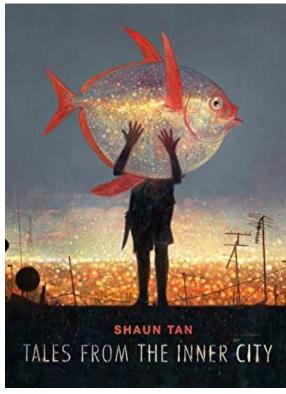

Scott writes

'Tales From the Inner City', by Shaun Tan.

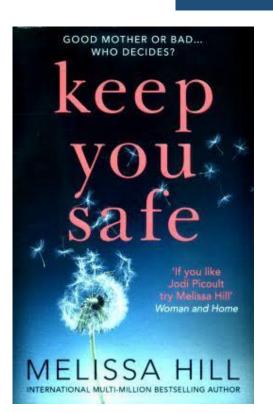

This book has been categorised as a 'junior book' but in my opinion is more suited to older teenagers and adults. Somewhere between an art book and a graphic novel, the book is a beautiful work, allegorical in intent and simply poetical in delivery.'

Shaun Tan's book uses the relationships between humans and animals to make the reader think about life and living well. The book is available through the Mobile Library and can be bought elsewhere in different formats from £9.95.

Mrs Gibson Recommends

This book by Irish author Melissa Hill is gripping from the start. It is set near Dublin in the present. Two mothers, two different parenting styles, one fateful decision.... This is one of those books that makes the reader think. The issue is not clear-cut, black and white, and you swap back and forward as which character deserves your sympathy. Who is 'right' and who is 'wrong'? Who decides the answer?

This book will touch your heart with believable characters and emotive issues. If you like authors such as Jodi Picoult you'll love this book.

Ian Rankin was at Waterstone's in Inverness recently.

It was
that did it!

When Highland Council announced that 15 villages would no longer get a Christmas Tree this year the 'Scottish Sun' newspaper carried a news item branding the Council as 'Scrooge'. There would be no trees for Drumnadrochit, Arderseir and Dores along with Foyers and Gorthleck. Communities were told they could 'buy their own'.

The Scottish Sun sprung into action and sent a van around the villages delivering a Christmas Tree paid for by the newspaper. One Foyers local said 'The tree The Sun has supplied is really lovely. The bloke in the van from Glasgow dropped it off at 9.30pm. He couldn't believe how dark it got up here!' Highland Council has now dressed the trees at Dores, Gorthleck and Foyers. Highland Council continues to spend vast sums on events in Inverness. This year Councillors approved the use of £340,000 of Common Good money for seven events in Inverness in 2019. This year's Inverness Hogmanay Celebration at the again features comedian Craig Hill from East Kilbride. No admission charge.
